

E. C. DE BACA'S PRESSURE NOT A CANDIDATE AGAINST CATRON

Las Vegas Man Doesn't Care To Be Congressman;
Jones Talks Little.

By GUTHRIE SMITH.
Las Vegas, N. M., May 24.—E. C. de Baca, present lieutenant governor of New Mexico, and very prominently mentioned in connection with the Democratic nomination for congress, is not a candidate for any office whatsoever. Notwithstanding that he has been accorded a place for high office on all the states which have been framed, he has no aspirations at all for further political honors.

Las Vegas, second city of New Mexico by reason of the fact that it is the residence of so many prominent candidates and influential factors in political work, might be said to occupy a position of great strategical value in this campaign. In addition to the two men mentioned above, frequently spoken of in connection with the highest offices within the gift of the people, there are four powerful Republicans. They are: Charles A. Spence, national committeeman from New Mexico and universally recognized as one of the ablest and most astute political workers in the state; Secundino Romero, speaker of the house in the last legislature and generally regarded as one of the two leading candidates for the nomination for governor; O. A. Larrazolo, twice the standard bearer of the territorial Democratic forces, and now being urged as a Republican candidate for the supreme court and the office of attorney general; and A. A. Jones, assistant secretary of the interior department.

The Meadows City is 131 miles distant from the Herald's home in Pioneer plaza, but the trip is well worth while. A. A. Jones attended the San Miguel county Democratic convention which was held Monday at St. Joseph's hall, for the purpose of electing delegates to the convention at Albuquerque. He was elected by that convention as a delegate to the state convention, which were E. C. de Baca, Antonio Lucero and Filadelfo Roca. The convention elected delegates, instead of the 12 allotted with the understanding that as many of these delegates as may attend will have the power to cast the full 12 votes. After the delegates had been chosen, a motion was carried with enthusiasm to have A. A. Jones address the convention. A committee of four was appointed to escort the delegates to the chairman's stand. Judge E. V. Long, as spokesman for the committee, introduced Jones as the next United States senator from New Mexico.

Speaks For 20 Minutes.
He spoke for about 20 minutes, with much earnestness and vigor. He declared he felt it no hardship to address such a meeting, that he was glad to be back here again and working with the forces that are striving unselfishly to advance the best interests of all the people. Touching upon the fact that the Democratic convention might be regarded as a myth, an afterthought, he said, he had no special emphasis upon the spirit of the meeting, the unanim-

Will Take the Democratic Nomination for Senator for New Mexico.

By GUTHRIE SMITH.
Albuquerque, N. M., May 24.—Assistant secretary of the interior A. A. Jones will, in the Democratic state convention this afternoon, announce his candidacy for the senate, so he said this morning in the first public statement of his plans that he has made.

Nearly every county in New Mexico has adopted resolutions either endorsing him as a candidate or inviting him to become a candidate.

Under all the circumstances, with the call so insistent and so nearly unanimous, he feels that he cannot fail to respond without failing in his duty to the people of the state, no less than to the party.

It is his belief that since he will become a candidate, the best interests of all concerned demand that a definite public statement be made at this time. This will be the gist of his address to the convention with reference to his candidacy.

Notables Present.
Among the federal and state officers here are assistant secretary of the interior Jones, Gov. W. C. McDonald, secretary of state Antonio Lucero, assistant secretary Hill, bank examiner Rufus H. Carter, treasurer O. A. Maroon, United States district attorney Sumner, and several other officials. The meeting of the state central committee convened at 10 this morning. The convention did not meet until two this afternoon.

Clark's Imperial band, of Albuquerque, is attending both the committee meeting and the convention.

Delegates Candidates.
Contrary to prediction, a good crowd is here for the convention.

Practically everyone of the 26 counties has a candidate for the national delegation, on which places are conceded to only two—Juan Duran, of Union county, and Felix Garcia, of Rio Arriba county. General sentiment is that half, or more of the six delegates, should be Spanish-Americans.

No contests have developed for places in the convention. The unit rule is being

Tribute To Martinez.
His tribute to the late Felix Martinez was filled with genuine friendship and profound admiration. He said that a good man had been called from New Mexico. A large, framed picture of Martinez hangs upon the wall of this hall just above the chairman's stand.

Immediately after the convention adjourned, Mr. Jones was asked when it would be possible for him to grant an interview for The Herald. "Now," he said, and sat down in the hall, which the delegates were vacating.

"I have no announcement to make at this time," he said.

When it was explained to him that it had been impossible on this trip to uncover any opposition at all to him, he repeated the substance of his first statement, that he did not feel justified in making any announcement yet.

Wants Another Committeeman.
"I will attend the convention at Albuquerque Wednesday, and I intend to recommend to the convention that someone else be selected for the post of national committeeman."

"You will make that recommendation altogether without reference to any other plan you have, or may make?" he was asked.

"Yes," he replied. "I have had the place for other plans, which I think is long enough for me. I believe the honor should be given now to someone else."

On arrival at Albuquerque last night, however, Mr. Jones announced his candidacy for the senate.

There was nothing, however, in his talk to me here to indicate whether he would or would not be a candidate for the national delegation. "Nothing," he said. "It is almost a certainty that the developments in the convention at Albuquerque will dispel all doubt and uncertainty upon this point. The resolutions of the county convention strongly endorsed him, as they did governor McDonald's lieutenant governor de Baca and other Democratic state officers. The resolutions are in part to the effect that he would assume a commanding position in the United States senate, if elected to that body. A resident of Las Vegas since 1884, he is recognized as a very able lawyer and is exceedingly popular here. His record is one to which all his friends point with great pride."

Jones an Active Man.
So far as this record is concerned, it stands upon its merits and has not been assailed from any quarter. He said by friend and foe alike—politically speaking—that as first assistant secretary of the department of the interior, Mr. Jones has done a great work for all the country, and that he has favored the southwest over other sections, but because there was so much needed in the southwest. He reached Las Vegas Sunday, will attend the Albuquerque convention Wednesday and return to Washington.

De Baca Too Bombastic.
"I have a political aspiration," I seek an office," said E. C. de Baca. There was nothing of bombast in his statement, none of the oft-recurring cant of the candidate who desires to leave the impression that he would accept the nomination in order to lead his party to a hard-fought victory and to save the country. Indeed, there was an air of fluidity, of resignation that was tinged with a certain resignation.

"You would not decline the nomination, if it should be tendered?" he was asked.

"That will not be necessary, I believe," he answered. "My health is in good and there has been no improvement for some time. I don't know what the trouble is. I need to relax from work, and I could not relax in the campaign, not after the election, if I should be successful. The tendency now is that I would not be able to accept a nomination, if any might be offered."

There was no need of asking further questions, after he had made his position clear and the ground seemed so tenable. He is editor of La Luz del Pueblo, the voice of the people—which is published by the Martinez Publishing company. Judge N. B. Laughlin, chairman of the state central committee, declares that de Baca is the ablest Spanish-American citizen in New Mexico and one of the most respected men he has ever known. "Everywhere he is trusted and respected," said Judge Laughlin.

ing used by most county delegations. The delegates to the national convention who are regarded as likely to be selected are Gov. McDonald, J. J. Duran, Union county; Max Montoya, Socorro county; W. B. Walton, Grant county; Felix Garcia, Rio Arriba county; and Albert Blake, Eddy county. There is a possibility, it is said, that 12 delegates could be elected to a half vote in the national convention.

Santa Fe for Convention.
Fifty-five of a total of 68 members of the state central committee attended this morning. Assistant secretary of state Hill made a motion that the state central committee should meet at Santa Fe for the place of the next state nominating convention. There was some surprise that Albuquerque did not bid for the convention.

There was extended discussion upon Hudspeeth's motion that August 26 be designated as the date for the convention. This proposed date is exactly a week after the Republican convention in the same month. Gov. McDonald suggested that the date was a matter of greatest importance and should be considered with great care.

"If we win this year, we will win on our merit," he said.

He thought the committee ought to show courage and not be too much bound to the matter of expediency, explaining that to wait and see what the Republicans would do was a matter of expediency. There is a question in his mind, he said, as to how far the party ought to go in the matter of expediency.

Saxon, of Quay, said that forswearing is forewarned and that if they held a convention after the Republicans, the Democrats would know exactly what they had to beat and could frame a ticket accordingly.

Wants To Wait.
Pardue, of Chusilupe, agreed with governor McDonald and urged the convention be held in advance of the Republicans, expressing the belief that the Democrats should pin their faith to principles and measures, rather than to men.

Camilla Padilla, of Santa Fe, declared the Republicans have race problems in their party to settle, while the Democrats have none.

"The Republicans have promised to nominate Spanish-Americans for governor and senator, and they will not dare to do it," he said. "When they have failed, we will have a strong argument with which to go before the Spanish-American counties. Do not be deceived into thinking race issues will not play an important part in this campaign, for they will, but they will principally affect the Republicans. I am in favor of waiting until the Republicans have nominated their ticket."

Convention Date Set.
The vote for August 26 was almost unanimous.

Barth is Chairman.
The central committee decided on Isaac Barth of Albuquerque for temporary chairman and first, second, third and fourth vice chairmen were elected as follows: B. A. Pino, Socorro; Henry Gonzalez, Taos; Dixie Howell, Torrance; Sacramento, Baco, Mora. E. C. de Baca, of Union, was named as secretary; Eugene Romero, of Mora, sergeant at arms; M. U. Vigil, Camilla Padilla and Trinidad C. de Baca interpreters.

THE Mail Carrier brought in the report last week that the world was coming to an end. Toke Nooley has advertised his farm and all his household goods for sale.

While passing through a strip of woods near Gilmert creek bridge the other night, Fletcher Henstap was held up by two masked men and robbed of a fine twist of chewing tobacco.

Folk Bailey came within twenty-five cents of buying a good buggy this week.

Things have been so quiet around Hogwallow this week that all the smoke went straight up.

The Hogwallow Improvement Society announced with much gusto that we are soon to have a new moon. Jefferson Putlocks is fixing to have his feet washed at the Hog Ford church footwashing next Sunday.

The Hog Ford congregation surprised their pastor yesterday morning by presenting him with a nice fryin'-size chicken.

A crowd of fellows from out about Rye Straw were at the Hog Hill church Sunday. They didn't go in, being only innocent bystanders.

The Deputy Constable has added a spy-glass attachment to his lantern, and contemplates doing some very fine detective work the coming fall and winter.

Somebody fired two shots at the postmaster while he was out on his rounds yesterday morning. They were grayish looking balls and traveled at such a rate of speed that he was unable to get a close look at them. He says it is a good thing they didn't hit him.

Haz Barlow, pioneer member of the Excelsior Fiddling Band, and a musician of much ability, has been engaged to play for a barn raising on Musket Ridge next week. Haz plays both by ear and request.

The chicken mites are reported right bad on Musket Ridge, but in Hogwallow they are not bothering anybody but the postmaster, who always did pay attention to little things. He has isolated himself in one end of the postoffice and it is believed that there will be no further spread of the pests.

Columbus Allport set one of his geese a few days ago on 15 eggs, but after a few superlatives and abandoned the nest until Columbus removed one of the eggs. It is very discouraging to note that in this late day of enlightenment we still have to tolerate superstition.

In the lecture on "Dog" at Buzzard Knob Monday night our worthy friend, Prof. Sap Spradlen, referred to several of our citizens in clearly understandable terms, but no one took offense, as they were merely used as illustrations.

Two or three members of the Hog Ford church, who moved from that vicinity, but expect to continue to affiliate with that congregation, and have instructed the preacher to ring the bell a little louder on Sunday mornings.

During the recent moonlight nights the Excelsior Fiddling Band has been standing out doors practicing up to play for the moonlight picnics scheduled for this month.

Fit Smith alone a good deal in church with his hat on, but nothing will be said to him about it, as he is liberal when the hat is passed around.

Sidney Hook is circulating a petition asking that the space between the bars in the Tickville jail be made much larger.

A ladder had been stuck against the postoffice so that if anybody is on the roof when a fire breaks out they can come down.

Sim Filanders has been swatting flies this week with the butter paddle.

MORE Truth Than Poetry
It's the Truth.
Why should a rich man be dazzled by a fairy?
Or throw out his chest at his gold-gaining skill?
His children will struggle to prove his insanity.
As soon as they've had their first look at his will.

And It Will Be Successful.
Unless congress changes its mind about preparedness, there will be another punitive expedition to the polls in November.

Ominous.
Mr. Bryan says he was for Wilson. But up to the second day of the Baltimore convention he said he was for Clark.

The Place for It.
A good impromptu preparedness parade on the Mexican border would do a lot of good just now.

The Thing That Counts.
"I shall preserve an open mind on the question of nomination," Fenwick. An open pocketbook will be more persuasive.

All Others Must Move On.
After a few more magisterial decisions nobody will be permitted to stand on street corners and pickpockets and gunmen.

After the Joy Ride.
The many pictures of overturned automobiles might be labelled "The End of the Perfect Day."

Enough Is Enough.
It is ominous news that the Pan-American republics are backing the president in his Mexican policy. If the last A. B. C. mediation brought on the present Mexican crisis, as it did, another one would plunge the whole western hemisphere into violence.

"Sonnet and Parry, Signifying Nothing."
A contemporary's assurance that Mr. Root is sound on preparedness reminds us that Mr. Bryan is also sound on it—all sound, in fact.

But We Hope for a Change.
Governor Ferguson of Texas, says he believes in intervention if it takes fifty years, which is a pretty narrow time limit to place on the present administration to act.

Selfishness of Politics.
The president and Tom Taggart insist on embarrassing each other in the Indiana campaign by both running on the same ticket.

As If War Hadn't Done Enough.
We learn with pain from the general information column of the Pittsburgh Democrat that war has seriously affected the peanut trade in Madras. When this news reaches the European capitals the war, of course, will be stopped.

But There Is No Chance.
Speaking of Mexico, if Mr. Wilson really wants to pacify Oregon, Carranza et al. why doesn't he make Carranza secretary of war?

But There Isn't.
Hughes and Fairbanks would make an ideal ticket—if there were a presidential campaign on in Cleveland.

DOCTOR TOLD HER TO TAKE PLANT JUICE
Her Cleveland Physician Advised Her to Continue and Now She Is Cured.

The most important thing that a woman can do for herself, and about which she is often very neglectful, is to watch the condition of her stomach and bowels. The weary eye, the bad breath, the frequent headaches, cold feet and hands, nights of sleeplessness, lack of appetite, all these symptoms are plain monitors of a deranged stomach and bowels and, given a general remedy, are cured.

Among the hundreds of statements being made in connection with Plant Juice, is that of Mrs. G. A. Durkee, nee Cleveland, Ohio, and a well-known and popular lady. She said: "I had suffered with stomach trouble for about five years, and I was so bad that I was unable to eat any breakfast whatsoever. My food would ferment in my stomach, causing gas, bloating, and flatulence. It was with great difficulty that I was able to retain any food at all on my stomach. I had been in the hands of a number of physicians who claimed that my trouble was due to chronic constipation and liver trouble. I also suffered for years with neuritic pains. I had the wonderful cures which were being effected by the use of Plant Juice, and although skeptical at first, decided to try a bottle. I can now truthfully say that since taking Plant Juice all of my pains have disappeared. In fact, I have obtained such excellent results from it that I am now recommending it to all my friends. I consider myself now absolutely cured. I am in El Paso at Kelly & Pollard's Drug Store. Adv."

YOU CAN ALMOST TALK TO HER
—THIS 3400 r. p. m. CHALMERS

They're buying motor cars today as they're hiring men—on ability.

Blue eyes, brown hair, a rugged jaw, mean something—but not so much as they used to.

They're seeking ability. And that is not always measured in stature, weight and reach.

Likewise in a car. They look her over, learn her wheel-base, note the tire sizes, ask the bore and stroke of the engine and then—

They make her perform.

They make her hit the trail, they roll her up the stiffest hill. They let her out on the straightaway, and they make her accelerate at slow speeds.

It's the only way to judge a car. And we're particularly glad, because we have in the 3400 r.p.m. Chalmers a car that answers every human wish.

You can almost talk to this animal. You can lead her anywhere. We know of no one who has ever called on her for too much, nor asked of her anything she couldn't deliver. She's like a young ballerina who keeps driving 'em over the right-field fence.

She's there. And the reason is her magnificent 3400 r. p. m. engine. When history in our business is written, 3400 r. p. m. will occupy a thick chapter.

Simply because at the lowest speeds she saves her energy, turns up only 500 r. p. m. at 10 miles an hour, and 1000 r. p. m. at 20 miles an hour.

Thus using only 18 per cent of her power at such speeds and saving 62 to 80 per cent for winding, hilly roads, bad turns, and on occasions when a little extra power gives you possession of the road.

One ride of five miles behind the wheel and you'll own it.

Ask your dealer about Chalmers service inspection coupons, negotiable at all Chalmers dealers everywhere. This system is a most important consideration in buying your car.

SIGNS OF DANGER

That Should Be Heeded By El Paso People.

There's serious danger in neglecting any weakness of the kidneys. The warning that Nature gives should not be overlooked. If troubled by too frequent passage of the kidney secretions; burning or stinging; if the secretions are highly colored and contain sediment when left standing—if you have back-ache, too, with frequent headaches and dizziness, make up your mind that your kidneys are affected and begin using some reliable kidney remedy. Deaths from kidney disease have increased in the United States alone, 72 percent in the last 30 years. The risk is great—you can't afford to delay. El Paso people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Can you ask for better proof of merit than the statement of this El Paso resident?

G. W. Kenney, carpenter, 2709 Florida Ave., El Paso, says: "Occasionally, I get a dull pain through the small of my back, which gives me considerable misery. It is painful at these times to bend over or to straighten, once I have stooped. When this attacks come on, I use Doan's Kidney Pills and they never fail to remove the trouble."

INDIGESTION DYSPEPSIA GASTRITIS STOMACH ULCERS

Why Magnesia Should Be Taken After Every Meal.

A tickled face may be the first noticeable symptom of indigestion, but disregarded this warning and soon there is unmistakable pain for indigestion is a progressive ailment. At first the symptoms may be relieved by soda, lemon or soda but these things do not overcome the excessive acid in the stomach which is usually the underlying cause of the trouble, and consequently the acid accumulates and the occasional attack of indigestion becomes chronic dyspepsia. The dyspeptic is always particularly liable to gastritis and gastric ulcers in the stomach and the required Jones as the next United States senator from New Mexico.

For this reason physicians place much importance upon keeping the stomach free from harmful acid and are continuously advising chronic dyspepsia as well as those who suffer from occasional attacks of indigestion to keep a little pure bicarbonate of soda handy, and to take a teaspoonful in a little water after every meal, and give it a trial. Care should be taken to tell the druggist to give you magnesia in the bicarbonate form as other magnesia preparations are not recommended for the correction of stomach acidity.—Advertisement.
